Losing grip lyrics meaning

Are you aware of what you make me feel? Baby Right now I feel invisible to you, like I'm not real Didn't you feel me lock my arms around you? Why'd you turn away? Here's what I have to say I was left to cry there Waiting outside there Grinning with a lost stare That's when I decided Why should I care 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared I was so alone You, you need to listen I'm starting to trip I'm losing my grip and I'm in this thing alone Am I just some chick you place beside you to take somebody's place? When you turn around can you recognize my face? You used to love me, you used to hug me But that wasn't the case Everything wasn't okay I was left to cry there Waiting outside there Grinning with a lost stare That's when I decided Why should I care 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared I was so alone You, you need to listen I'm starting to trip I'm losing my grip and I'm in this thing alone Crying out loud, I'm crying out loud Crying out loud, I'm crying out loud Open your eyes Open up wide Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there When I was scared I was so alone Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there When I was scared I was so alone Why should I care? If you don't care then I don't care We're not going anywhere Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there When I was scared I was so alone Why should I care? If you don't care then I don't care We're not going anywhere Lyrics submitted by youneedtolisten Losing Grip Lyrics as written by Cliff Magness Avril Lavigne Lyrics © Universal Music Publishing Group, Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Lyrics powered by LyricFind Add your thoughts Log in now to tell us what you think this song means. Grunge, alternative metal Avril LavigneCliff Magness Previous Current Next "I'm With You" "Losing Grip" "Don't Tell Me" "Losing Grip" "Complicated" "Losing Grip" is the first track and fourth single from Avril Lavigne's debut studio album, Let Go (2002). Written by Lavigne and Cliff Magness, and produced by Magness, this song was released as an official single in April 1, 2003, except in New Zealand, where "Mobile" was released. "Losing Grip" was nominated for the Grammy Award for Best Female Rock Vocal Performance, in 2004, but lost to "Trouble" by Pink. Background[] Avril sings about feeling betrayed and ignored by a lover who was careless about their relationship, stating that she is better off without the person. She starts off with feeling sad and confused as to why this person doesn't support her as she would like him to be. Then it transitions to her expressing that she shouldn't care about the relationship and expressing her hatred towards the person on how hurt she was by this former friend. Critical reception[] Christina Saraceno of Allmusic noted that "Losing Grip" allowed Lavigne to "show off" her vocal ability during the song's "explosive rock chorus". Sal Cinquemani of Slant magazine also praised Avril's vocals and compared them to Canadian singer-songwriter Alanis Morissette.[1] In an AOL Radio listener's poll, "Losing Grip" was voted Avril's tenth best song. Awards and nominations[] Year Organization Category Results 2003 Canadian Radio Music Awards Best NewRock/Alternative Solo Won Fan Choice Award Nominated 2004 Grammy Awards Best Female Rock Vocal Performance Nominated Music video[] The music video shows Avril performing in front of a large crowd. Shots of her making her way through a mass of people while pushing, punching and shoving interlude from time to time. There is also a scene where Avril jumps into the crowd and "crowd surfs". The audience had to practice this routine on other people before Avril was allowed to do so. The music video was directed by Liz Friedlander and recorded at Angel Orensanz Foundation. Lyrics[] [Verse 1] Are you aware of what you make me feel, baby? Right now, I feel invisible to you Like I'm not real Didn't you feel me lock my arms around you? Why'd you turn away? Here's what I have to say [Pre-Chorus] I was left to cry there Waiting outside there Grinning with a lost stare That's when I decided... [Chorus] Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared I was so alone You, you need to listen I'm starting to trip I'm losing my grip, and I'm in this thing alone [Verse 2] Am I just some chick you place beside you to take somebody's place? When you turn around, can you recognize my face? You used to love me, you used to hug me But that wasn't the case Everything wasn't okay [Pre-Chorus] I was left to cry there Waiting outside there Grinning with a lost stare That's when I decided... [Chorus] Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared I was so alone You, you need to listen I'm starting to trip I'm losing my grip, and I'm in this thing alone [Bridge] Crying out loud I'm crying out loud Crying out loud I'm crying out loud [Breakdown] Open your eyes Open up wide Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared, I was so alone [Pre-Chorus] Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared I was so alone [Chorus] Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared I was so alone Why should I care? If you don't care, then I don't care We're not going anywhere Why should I care? 'Cause you weren't there when I was scared I was so alone Why should I care? If you don't care, then I don't care We're not going anywhere In an unexpected surprise, Avril Lavigne's "Losing Grip" really lived up to it's main lyric, "I'm Losing Grip". Boy, she can scream when she's pissed off. "Why should I care!" She yelled in an emotional outburst. In another part of the video, Avril starts to lose her grip, and you can see it in the video. "I'm starting to trip. I'm losing my grip. And I'm in this thing alone!" Avril sang. In this video, the red flag looks like an anarchy symbol. Moreover, her camouflage t-shirt doesn't help. Further, check the skull belt buckle. Of course, the flag could stand for first letter of Avril. But it makes you wonder. Furthermore, the song has meaning at the level of an individual. Avril could be losing her grip. After all, she sings about being abandoned by a boyfriend. Conversely, the song has deeper meaning for society. The video suggests a society out of control. A society "losing grip". A society that "doesn't care anymore". Arvil captures this feeling in the imaginary of the video, so the anarchy theme hits home. Indeed, Avril Lavigne is a powerhouse; that is, you can feel the emotion in her lyrics and stage presence. "I'm crying loud. I'm crying out loud. Open your eyes. Open them wide!" She screamed at the audience from on the stage. It's a great song. You can feel her emotion. The lyrics are good, too. A great video to watch. And open your eyes to what's around you! © Copyright 2022 Am I just some chick you place beside you to take somebody's place? When you turn around can you recognize my face? Sorry for the inconvenience. anonymous Jul 27th 2018 report Maybe this is kind of dark... but since this song released after "I'm with you" I think it was possible related to it. So if you believe that "I'm with you" was about a boy asking for someone (that he knew) to help him when he's about to commit suicide and no one but a random person (who doesn't know him) is trying to save him by understanding why he's trying to do. H e said "Take me somewhere new I don't know who you are But I, I'm with you" like trusting that the person who he is talking to it's right and that he needs to be alive. Could be that "Losing grip" is someone that he knew telling er that actually she wanted to help him when he was thinking about suicide, but she never did because he was so isolated so consumed in his thoughts or in the conversation with the random person that he couldn't see that she was there. Basically he was using her because he wanted not to feel alone in some way (he was telling her that he loves her and that because of it), and he didn't care about her in any way. So when she realized that she was just someone to have some fun with and that he was lying, she's decided that she shouldn't care about him no more
